Gentlemen:

Our Corporation owns and is actively engaged in a Quarry Operation in Millard County, Utah.

Recently we made application to comply with all standards outlined in your Reclamation Plan.

We have one vital problem however, and that is to continue removing the overburden now from the top of the hill, so that moisture can penetrate and help free up the slabs of stone below, thus making it a more feasible Mining Operation, both time wise and cost wise.

For that reason, we beg your board to consider granting us permission, prior to advertising and bonding, to continue removing overburden from the top of the Quarry, (in the already disturbed surface pit area, which was done prior to 1975.)

Any consideration in the above mentioned request would be most greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Aleda Jensen
